

Fine Asian & Islamic Works of Art (617)

Thu, 5th Nov 2020, Live Online

Viewing Times:

Viewing is now closed.

Lot 22

Estimate: £5000 - £7000 + Fees

RARE MOTHER-OF-PEARL INLAID BLACK LACQUER 'PAVILION OF PRINCE TENG' SCREEN MING DYNASTY, 16TH-17TH CENTURY

明 黑漆嵌螺鈿滕王閣屏風

the screen of square form, one side intricately worked with finely carved mother-of-pearl set against a black lacquer ground to depict a scene of scholars' gathering held at a palatial residence, with the name 'Teng Wang Ge' inscribed on a plaque hanging on the top floor, all surrounded by ten rectangular panels within raised borders, each decorated with a scholar and his attendant in a landscape setting, further enclosed by fourteen rectangular panels with birds perching on blossoming branches within raised borders, the reverse side similarly arranged with the central panel painted in red and green with a large pavilion against a golden paint background

Qty: 1

Dimensions: 93cm x 95.5cm

